

Merry Christmas Happy New Year

We are both in Florida. I sold the house in East Haven in Feb. Did the closing on a Monday and Sunday night it snowed twenty inches. I had to shovel out to do a final cleaning and the walk thru. Put all our things in storage in Lyndonville in a 10 by 30.

I had Glenn on a wait list at several nursing homes. Finally in March I got the go for one and went the 4th of April to get him. He was glad to leave as he was in lockdown in his room. I was not aware of that. That is why you can never leave a loved one without constant care. He is now in Arbor Village 15 minutes from where I live. I spend Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday I have him most of the day. He thinks it is strange that people who live in the house let me use it when I want to. Mostly we just drive. He doesn't know me. He thinks he is in Vermont and looks for his grandfather to come visit and Aunt Lois to come up from Boston.

I am busy with my animals—three ferrets Cindy, Ricky and Snuggles Bug (a new rescue); Snow my 08 Christmas present (a hedgehog); Skinky the lizard; Squeaky the parrot who is now talking and five finches (rescue). In Sept' bred Miss Pepper and she had two boys and one girl. While at the breeders I fell in love with a 4 week Yorkie male Wiskers. He is my 7 AM alarm.

Lots of medical tests from changing doctors. Still cancer free after 5 years. Heart acting up nothing mechanical.

Stress is the problem and on meds to handle it. Lots of aches and pains from growing younger..

Went North in June to have my stuff moved down and watch my granddaughter Kathryn graduate from 8th grade; was salutatorian. Frooze; only one day in at 72. cold, wet and rainy. Angela is still at the same job, Jim's company moved south in June. He is working for the correctional and state buildings. Some lost of pay but he will get it back. Sam graduate from ST. Jay in June. Kathryn is now a freshman and doing well in school and sports.

Carrie is now in 7th doing great in school and sports. Adam is still learning to be a chef. Priscilla is in 2nd grade and straight As and great at sports. They are still in Seward Alaska. Esther hopes to get a house this summer.
